

New Renaissance(TM) Animation

ViewRay, Inc. is pleased to announce that its new ViewRay website is up and running (www.viewray.com). Of special interest is the new Renaissance(TM) animation. The novel gamma-ray radiation sources are shown rotating around and irradiating the patient, as is the double donut MRI for real-time, volumetric patient imaging. To view, simply go to the "Technology" page, then to "Click here to see an animation of the Renaissance™ ."

The Company expects the Renaissance(TM) as pictured to fit within the footprint of existing linacs.

ViewRay has licensed its patent pending technology from the University of Florida and is solely dedicated to its development and commercialization.
